SHORT SESSION.

Civic Councillors Rush Business on Monday Evening

There were two vacant chairs when Mayor Ross brought his gavel down on the desk at the commencement of Monday evening's Council proceedings.

Dr. Little of Churchill, M.H.O. for Innisfil, wrote suggesting that arrangements be made for the joint use of Barrie Isolation Hospital in future cases of contagious diseases.

Chief King presented his report of the weighings of coal on the town scales since Jan. 9th. Twenty tests were made altogether on various dates all of which proved satisfactory.

The Finance Committee submitted a number of accounts for payment, the principal bills relating to the Board of Health and aggregating $372.70.

The same committee reported that the tender of the Canadian Securities, Limited, for the recent issue of debentures amounted to $15,447.89 and recommended its acceptance.

Ald. Strange put a few questions to the Chairman of Fire and Police in regard to the quality of wood now being supplied to the town.

Ald. Stephens replied that the town was not obliged to pay for the wood unless it came up to specifications.

Ald. Lowe wished to know by whose authority the Barrie F. B. had attended the Allandale fire on Thursday night, and further why the town should be jeopardized by all of the firemen being away at a fire at one time.

Ald. Stephens said that he supposed the usual course was followed. The central brigade was bound to respond to a general alarm.

Ald. Garden in answer to a query stated, with reference to the prevalence of carp and other coarse fish in Lake Simcoe, that a license had been issued by the Department to net these fish in the vicinity of the Holland River mouth and that it was expected that thousands of the scavengers would be got rid of in this way.

Allusion was made to the deputation that will go to Toronto to-day to interview the Government re the Normal School question. The matter is not one of invitation or appointment but all loyal citizens are asked to join the deputation. A return fare of $2.60 has been arranged.

A motion by Ald. Stephens to have some repairs to the fire equipment executed by the Barrie Carriage Co. provoked a somewhat lively discussion. Aldermen Garden, Strange, Beardsley, Cowan and Turner thought that one of the small concerns should get the work, as it was never intended when the town aided the carriage factory that it would be a repair shop, but purely a wholesale manufacturing industry.

Ald. Stephens defended his action on the ground that the job could be done more quickly and cheaply and it was a matter of urgency. The motion carried.

Ald. Lowe wishes to have the fire limits further and better defined in regard to building restrictions and to that end the Fire and Police Committee will consider a new by-law.

Ald. Beardsley moved that the Public Works Committee consider the advisability of changing the names of certain streets to avoid confounding them with other streets similarly designated. Ross, William, Centre, Oliver, John, Rose and Thompson streets are mentioned in the motion, which carried.

Council adjourned at 3.45.

The happy couple left on the 7 o'clock train for a short honeymoon, and they have now taken up their abode at Russelton.

A number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Jennett gathered at their home on John St. North on Monday evening and presented them with a set of dishes and a marble clock. During their residence in town Mr. and Mrs. Jennett made themselves extremely popular. They are returning to Ivy where Mr. Jennett will resume farming.

The trophy consists of beautiful silver cup about ten inches high, standing on an ebony pedestal. There were several contestants, but the judges awarded the trophy to Mr. Peacock. This entitles him to compete for the city championship to be held in March.

The March Delineator.

In the March number The Delineator has fallen under the spell of romance and presents as its leading feature an article on "The Brides of the White House," illustrated with a handsome portrait of Miss Roosevelt never before published. The fiction of the number includes a short story by Mary Stewart Cutting, a clever study of child life by Virginia Woodward Cloud, and the continuation of "The President of Quex," Helen M. Winslow's interesting club story. Viola Allen, the popular young actress, who recently married a southern millionaire, writes of Shakespere's heroines from the point of view of one who has personated many of them with great success. Dr. Murray concludes her series on "The Rights of the Child" with a paper on growth and development; and a unique feature beginning in this number is "Houses by Correspondence," the first being "The Doctor's House."

STROUD.

After a few days' illness, Miss Mabel Black, youngest daughter of Mr. James Black, succumbed to appendicitis on Feb. 13th. The sad event has cast a gloom over the community, as the young lady was a general favorite. Large numbers attended the funeral on Thursday, interment taking place in the Methodist cemetery. Rev. R. B. Beynon preached a touching sermon in the Temperance Hall, making eulogistic references to the many estimable qualities of the deceased. Miss Black was active in Church and Sunday School work in which circle her loss will be severely felt. Four brothers and two brothers in-law bore the remains to their last resting place. One of the beautiful floral tributes was "gates ajar" from the young people of the church. The bereaved relatives have the sincere sympathy of the entire community in their hour of sorrow.

Crossley and Hunter Meetings.

The evangelistic services conducted by Messrs. Crossley and Hunter continue not only with unabated but increasing interest. The Presbyterian church, where the services were held last week, was much too small, and the same statement is true regarding the Collier St. Methodist church, where the services have been conducted since Sunday last. The crowds nightly fill every part of the building, aisles as well as lobbies, many having to stand throughout the whole of the services. On Sabbath the evangelists occupied the Baptist and Presbyterian churches in the morning, and the Collier St. Methodist Church in the evening. In the afternoon a meeting for men only was held in the Opera House, and it was a sight well worth beholding to look upon the faces of 800 or 900 singing with the lustiness of tone that is peculiar only to vigorous men.

The evangelists spoke on the subject of Personal Purity, thundering forth with fervid earnestness against the sins of dishonesty, blasphemy, self-abuse, adultery, etc. Their appeals to the young men present were very strong and searching, yet timely and tender, breathing throughout a spirit of love and solicitude in behalf of those to whom they were addressed. Rarely has a moral teacher or preacher of righteousness such an opportunity, and rarely is it seized upon and improved so well. No matter how innocent or guilty he might be, the conscience of every man present endorsed their denunciations of the vices depicted, and many went away with better purposes and nobler resolves than they ever possessed before. The afternoon meeting will be continued on Sabbath next at 3.45 in the Opera House.

On Sabbath evening the large Methodist church was packed to the doors, many having to go away without obtaining admission. The subject discussed was "Conversion," and in answer to the invitations given a large number stood up and indicated their decision to live a better life.

On Monday evening of this week Mr. J. Macdonald Oxley, M.A., the well known author and literatus, was present and told of his association with the evangelists 14 years age at Ottawa in the meeting where the late Sir John Macdonald professed his decision to live a Christian life. He related his conversation afterwards with Sir John and Lady Macdonald and assured the congregation of the peace and happiness that entered the heart and life of the venerable and lamented Premier of Canada some years before he departed hence.

Mr. Oxley's statement was followed by the testimony of Rev. Mr. Morden, Presbyterian minister of Bradford, who was converted at a meeting held in Dr. Ockley's church, Picton, conducted by the evangelists in that town 19 years ago, when eleven hundred people decided to live a new and better life. Having been brought up as a Quaker of the old school he went to their meetings with prejudice and for the purpose of satisfying his curiosity, but he was saved and has since been kept by the power and grace of God.

The meetings are unique in many respects and are profoundly interesting.
